Population Density (people per km²)

1   10   100   1000   10000 +

Above: World population density. Beige areas have less than 10 people per km², while dark red areas represent population densities of 10,000 per km² or greater. (Map based on Gridded Population of the World, version 3, Socioeconomic Data and Applications Center, Columbia University; image, NASA/SVS.)